Hesters Way Neighbourhood Project News

"... run by local people for local people ..."

Welcome to the Mid Summer edition of our newsletter

Welcome to the second edition of our newsletter. There has been a lot going on over recent weeks with plenty of activities in and around the area to keep you all busy over the summer. We have listed a few of these on the following pages. Remember to follow us on Twitter @hesterswaynp, Facebook at Springbank, Cheltenham and visit our website www.hwnp.org to see regular updates.

Community Events coming up are:

Summer Fair - Saturday July 18th @ Springbank Resource Centre, 11am to 2.30pm. If you would like to know more about this then call Helen on 01242 539088.

Annual Peace Week in Springbank starts on International Peace Day on Monday 21st September.

Annual ECO Fun Day - Saturday 26th September 11am to 2pm.

Thanks to our Volunteers & Trustees!

Project staff thanked Volunteers and Trustees (who also give their time and skills for free) by organising a curry night in the Andrew Pennington Suite at the Hesters Way Community Resource Centre with food prepared by JT's Café.

Volunteers of all ages from across the area attended including our eldest Frank Beattie who is more than a local hero with all the voluntary work he's done over the years. More on Frank and his like of being a real nuisance in future newsletters as well as a tribute to former councillor, Andrew Pennington.

It was great to see so many smiling faces and the food was great (thanks JT's Café). Not satisfied with putting on a curry night, staff also organised a "Fun" Awards Evening at the St. Marks and Hesters Way Community Centre in Brooklyn Road. The red carpet was rolled out courtesy of our Christian Filipino friends from Church of Christ in Springbank, professional photographer Chris Birch clicked away all evening. Everyone stepped into the spirit of those famous words "...and the three nominees are?" in categories such as "The Diva Award" for the biggest drama queen (hi Levy!), "The Abacus Award" for always being there to count on (hi Sarah!), "Barbie Doll Award" for the most likely person to be a model (hi Rod!), "The Casanova Award" for being the biggest flirt (hi Denise) and "The Loch Ness Award" for the person least likely to be found (and still not found!).

The evening was filled with laughter, everyone had a really good time and Margaret Hall, former mid-wife and volunteer with the Project for over 17 years, said "it was a fabulously unusual evening, one I was not expecting. It was clear that a lot effort had gone into organising everything, from the table layouts, the fun awards and the honouring of people". Volunteers gave a huge round of applause to Helen Hope and Izi Jones for organising the evening and special thanks also went to Emily Patchett and Seonaid White.

Farewell to Chris!

Chris's celebratory retirement farewell was attend by 30 people, including his partner, Pat Rhodes, and his two daughters Elysia and Gabby. Colleagues and volunteers of the Neighbourhood Project and tenants of the Springbank Centre got together to give him a surprise send off which he had said he didn't want! He received lots of cards, well wishes, hugs and gifts including a framed print called "Live" by Bernard Ott, a stylish picnic basket, chilled champagne, wine, chocolates, book tokens and a thank you gift from Trustees on behalf of the Neighbourhood Project for his 18 years' service. Borough and County Councillors, Peter Jeffries and Suzanne Williams passed on their best wishes to Chris for a long and happy retirement and thanked him for his many years of service to the local community.

Chris was given a true send off and within an hour of leaving, text our Helen to say "Thank you for all your efforts. I was completely overwhelmed". On seeing a number of messages on Facebook sent the message "Thank you for yesterday. I can't believe that anyone would go to such an effort for me. I can't tell you how heart-warming it was. And thank everyone who came along for me please. Xx"

Chris joined the Neighbourhood Project as a Community Involvement Worker and was instrumental in setting up and running the Hesters Way News community newspaper which was well liked by locals giving them a voice and a window into what's on in the area. He's been through the thick and thin of the success of the organisation and has been part of the backbone of all things good at the Springbank Community Resource Centre since it opened in 2007. As well as helping to run the Centre, Chris organised many community events, his favourite being the ECO Fun Day held in September each year. Chris took care of our website, newsletters, flyers and articles in the Echo whilst helping the Project through a tough time in 2005 to 2008 by being really flexible in his employment. On a personal level, Chris has also helped a number of people in extreme hardship over the years with a friendly ear, practical advice and by standing up for people, making things happen and did so without making a fuss.

He has a strong creative streak with some of his works available on www.chrisgreenstories.com. People will still be able to access local history on www.historyofhestersway.com.

Kevin Devaney adds: "From us all, thank you Chris for all you've given and brought to the Project over the years. Have a great time in this next chapter of your life which we hope will include a page or two coming back to see us from time to time."

GOOD NEWS TO SHARE!

Sainsbury's Local Charity of the Year

"Sainsbury's staff from their store at Gallagher Retail Park on the Tewkesbury Road were really impressed with our application to be their local charity of the year. Many live in the Hesters Way area and whilst some had heard of us, several had no idea how much we do and what goes on behind the scenes by so many people and so many volunteers. We have been nominated along with Gloucestershire Hospitals Charity and the Pied Piper Appeal as one of their three charities in its 'Make a Difference' Campaign.

You can vote on line by going to our home page www.hwnp.org and clicking on the link to Sainsbury Local Charity. All you need to do then is type in your postcode and select the Sainsbury's Tewkesbury Road Store and vote for your chosen charity.

Win or lose Sainsbury staff said they would like to get more involved with the Project over the coming years. And whoever wins, HWNP would like to thank everyone for voting."

Easter Fair

We have had some good events at Springbank Community Resource Centre over the years but this year's Easter Fair was probably the best one yet. The organisers would like to thank all those who took part or helped in any way to make the event possible.

Six hundred people from far and wide came along and enjoyed an afternoon of song, dance and magic entertainment. It was the perfect family occasion. All the participants were impressed by the turnout and the organisers, Helen Hope and a team of local volunteers could not believe just how many people came. We had fifteen stall holders; they too enjoyed the day and were able to make the visit to Springbank worth their while. This event has really put Springbank Community Resource Centre on the map. Kelly Hope said 'Easter Fair was the best thing that I have done with my family year. The children loved it.'

Living Room gets involved with Music Festival

Michael Betteridge, a young composer, vocal director and amateur from Manchester is working with a drop-in group from the Living Room in Rowanfield and children from St Thomas More Catholic Primary in Lewis Road, Hesters Way. Part of the Cheltenham Festivals 'Going for a Song', Michael has been running a series of workshops empowering people to explore music, discover their voices, reflect on their life experiences and compose songs inspired by sites that are significant to them.

For local people who visit the Living Room, areas of focus include memory, the history of the area, the role of the Living Room within the local community and any important stories about the area they live in. He has worked with anyone using the Living Room who has wanted to participate by contributing ideas/lyrics, composing and/or performing. During Michael's first visit to St Thomas More School, he encouraged the children to seek inspiration in every nook and cranny of their surroundings and their imagination. The pupils went on to write lyrics to their songs with music composed by Michael.

The Living Room Group performed at the Rowanfield Rocks at Rowanfield Infant School on the 3rd July. The two groups will be performing in Hesters Way on Friday 10th July at the library, Coronation Square at 12:00 then at the Monks Croft care home at 13:30. At the Music Festival's Family Day on Saturday 11th July at Imperial Gardens at 2.30pm. Entry is free.

The living Room is also open for drop in on a Monday and Friday afternoon from 13:30 - 16:30 and from 10:00- 16:30 on Wednesday, where volunteer community organisers are available to discuss other groups and sessions open to the community.

My experience of attending college as an adult

I attended Betteridge School many years ago, but since then I have done lots of courses in Cheltenham with Gloscat/Gloscol. My first courses English and Maths - the tutors were very nice. I also did some practical courses: pottery was the one I really enjoyed. I made a jug which I painted afterwards. I have also attended Look Good, Feel Good and an Easter Cookery School.

I would say that it has been really good to go to College. Tutors have always been helpful and I have learnt many different things. At the moment I am attending one of the IT Drop-In courses at HWNP Resource Centre - I have learnt to use e-mail and the internet. I can now look for jobs and I like to keep up with the news online. Written by Sharon Hobbs

HWNP Digi-Den drop-in's open Weds 1-4 pm & Thurs 10 - 1pm. No experience necessary. Call 01242 521319 to find out more or come along to the Hesters Way Resource Centre for details.

Instead of heading into town, why not visit the ladies who run our Neighbourhood Shop in Hesters Way Road, GL51 0DA, and see the collection of fabulous items they have on offer.

With an Alladin's Cave of good quality second-hand clothing, including babies and childrens, fancy dress, shoes, books, toys, games, dolls, DVD's, Bric-a-Brac and household items: glassware, plates, ornaments, china items, cups and curtains.

Located next to the Post Office and Co-op, the shop is open Mon-Fri 9.00 am till 3.00 pm. Call in and see what they have on offer and you may save yourself several £'s by doing so. Call 01242 252325 to find out more.

Dial-a-Cab offers wheelchair access

Family run taxi firm Dial-a-Cab, operating out of Hesters Way Resource Centre is owned by Graham Foley, who has over 25 years experience of working in the taxi business. Assisted by his daughter Emma who deals with managing the various business accounts and son Adam who currently works as a telephonist but is undertaking his knowledge training to become a taxi driver. Since taking over the firm some 3 years ago from Emma & Adam's Great Uncle, Graham has taken steps to enhance the way the company operates. Now employing 16 drivers, with several hundred regular customers around Cheltenham Dial-a-Cab has developed several accounts with local care homes, schools and colleges. As most of his fleet of taxis are wheelchair accessible this means that Graham and his team are able to offer an additional service.

"Our drivers understand how difficult it is for wheelchair users to get in and out of vehicles. Without this facility, many are totally housebound. We are so pleased to be able to offer customers a friendly, reliable service; people know that they can now get about even if they are reliant on a wheelchair. We love it when our customers recommend us too. We always aim to 'go the extra mile' to ensure people remember us for all the right reasons," says Graham.

Running a taxi business requires 24/7 commitment throughout the year and Graham rarely has a day off. He will however on 2nd August when his daughter Emma gets married to Constantin Badoaia who also works in the business.

To book a cab contact Dial-a-Cab on 01242 24 24 24.

Not only do they provide a free collection & delivery service for prescriptions from all doctor's surgeries around Cheltenham, but they stock and deliver free many daily essentials too. These items include bread, milk, tea, sandwiches, toiletries.

"We are very community orientated," says Lorraine, one of the Cheltenham Pharmacy team. "We try to accommodate our customers and provide items that they need to make their lives easier. If we are delivering prescriptions, we can deliver a pint of milk too!"

Don't live in silence - get a free hearing test

Andrew Bird Hearing operates his Specialist Hearing Centre from the Hesters Way Resource Centre. With over 14 years experience working as a trained Audiologist, Andrew established his Hearing Centre some 9 years ago. Assisted by his receptionist Lyn Attwood and trainee assistant Liam Halliday, this wheelchair accessible, friendly test centre offers free hearing tests and provides expert advice to over 3000 clients. They offer hearing tests at home as well as at 32 opticians throughout Gloucestershire, down to Bristol and Taunton, up to Worcester and Malvern.

People are encouraged to get their hearing tested in the same way they have their eyes tested. Andrew explains: "Often people do not realise their hearing is impaired or they have medical problems associated with their inner ear which is a complex piece of engineering. It is not just the elderly who suffer impairment. Reduced hearing can result from virus infections, be a side effect of some medications, be genetic, be caused if people are exposed to loud noise over a period of time from working conditions, loud music or taking part in activities such as shooting without wearing suitable hearing protection (which is now prescribed by law in certain circumstances). Being unable to hear properly can result in social impairment but there is a stigma attached to hearing difficulties so people continue to live in a silent bubble. However modern technology is so advanced and hearing aids so discrete, that people should not be afraid of having their hearing tested and see how much better life can be if they can hear normally."

Money Advice Service- some fantastic news!

This highly valued service will continue running up until at least the end of December 2015, and longer if we can secure new funding. The service was due to stop at the end of August but thanks to great team work between Community Roots CIC, Gloucestershire County Council, Cllr Chris Coleman and ourselves, funding has been secured as part of an innovative project to help people in financial difficulty and others to get active, ending the loneliness and ill health often associated with debt and isolation.

Provided by our prized Money Advice (Debt) specialist Sue Powell at the Hesters Way Community Resource Centre, this free money advice service is here to help you manage your finances better. Sue runs two weekly sessions on a Tuesday from 2 until 6pm and Fridays 10 am until 6pm. With her extensive knowledge of financial matters dealing with debt and benefit management, she is here to help you make the most of your income. She offers free confidential advice on debt, benefit and money issues.

To see if you are receiving all the benefits you are entitled to or if you need assistance, please contact Sue Powell on 01242 521319, email suep@hwnp.org.uk or call in to the Hesters Way Community Resource Centre.
